DETAILED ACTION

Restriction/Election

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-15, and 78-84 drawn to a diverse populations of labels, and a labeling kit, classified in class 536, subclass 25.32.
 - II. Claim 23-33, drawn to a method of attaching a label to a nucleic acid, classified in class 435, subclass 7.7.
 - III. Claims 16-22, and 34-49, drawn to a method of producing a population of labels and nucleic acid probes, classified in class 536, subclass 26.41.
 - IV. Claims 50-77, drawn to a method of detecting a nucleic acid analyte, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Group I can be used in materially different processes such as nucleic acid purification assays and cloning assays.

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product of Group I can be used in materially different processes such as nucleic acid purification assays and cloning assays.

Inventions II and III-IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions because the methods of Groups II and III have different modes of operation and different functions, for instance method of Group II results in chemical linkage of a label and the method of Group III produces a product, and the method of Group IV results in detecting a target.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
